Amplifying the love, sharing, and understanding of music.

This season, National Music Centre (NMC) celebrates another major Canadian music milestone, while expanding existing programs to serve the appetites of our diverse communities.

Our award-winning education programs will expand to serve more students with updated content that promotes hands-on, ears-on, minds-on learning, using music as a lens to understand core curriculum topics. In demand programs, Showtime! and Jam Club, return and Family Day will feature Canada's favourite all-ages entertainer, Fred Penner.

Terri Clark blazed a trail for Canadian country music, with three back to back platinum albums in the 1990s. As the 2018 inductee into the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame, NMC will commemorate her legacy with a special exhibition at Studio Bell.

NMC's in-demand stream of self-directed artist residencies pick up this season, with artists from all genres creating new works in our state-of-the-art facilities – don't miss your opportunity to get insight into their creative process during artist workshops at Studio Bell. AE West also returns, providing a unique five-week commercial skill development intensive for a handful of emerging artists.

Synth-heads will rejoice as one of the most intriguing instruments in the NMC collection sees a long-awaited commissioning this fall. During TONTO Week, we'll celebrate this legendary instrument with public programs featuring presentations by its co-creator Malcolm Cecil, an artist residency by A Tribe Called Red, and a special installment of After Hours. All of this will coincide with Alberta Electronic Music Conference at Studio Bell in November.

NMC will continue to expand our live music offerings with more NMC presented concerts, including the Grapes of Wrath this fall, our monthly showcase of regional talent, Alberta Spotlight, and dozens of co-presentations with community partners.

As the home for music in Canada, we hope you find music that inspires and delights, and stories that connect you to Canada's incredible diversity of music—celebrated and presented at the magnificent Studio Bell, home of the National Music Centre.

SHOWCASE 2018 INDUCTEES

VITRINE/2018 INTRONISÉS

This season, a new exhibition celebrates the 2018 inductees into the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame (CCMHF)—Terri Clark and Jackie Rae Greening.

Internationally acclaimed musician and singer-songwriter Terri Clark, the 2018 artist inductee, is a 19-time CCMA Award and three-time JUNO Award recipient. Clark first began making music in her hometown of Medicine Hat, AB in the early '90s. Since releasing her debut album in 1995, she has sold over five million albums worldwide and is the first (and only) Canadian woman to be a member of the Grand Ole Opry.

Alberta-based broadcaster Jackie Rae Greening is the 2018 builder inductee into the CCMHF and a past Chair and member of the Board of Directors of the CCMA. Greening is a four-time CCMA Award winner and an Alberta Country Music Hall of Fame inductee. With over 36 years in the broadcasting industry, Greening has worked behind the scenes to advance country music in Canada.

BACKSTAGE PASS TOURS AT STUDIO BELL

This guided tour of Studio Bell's artist spaces provides a behind-the-scenes look at three world-class recording facilities that house historic consoles—including the Olympic Studios console, a Trident A-Range console, and the legendary Rolling Stones Mobile Studio—in addition to a collection of musical instruments that spans 450 years of music, innovation and technology.

Step inside the “Sistine Chapel of rock n’ roll,” where classic albums like Led Zeppelin IV and Exile on Main Street came to life.

Catch a glimpse of the work spaces where artists make magic happen, and hear the stories behind notable artifacts as a trained musician offers a demonstration. Gain insight into some of NMC's most treasured items—from the earliest instruments in the NMC Collection, such as a 16th century Trasuntino harpsichord; to modern electronics, like TONTO, considered to be the ‘holy grail’ of synthesizers; to the extremely rare Hammond Novachord (only six functioning Novachords remain in the world!); to the largest item in the NMC collection, the King Eddy.

Artist DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

NMC Artist Development Programs create opportunities for artists to grow artistically and commercially. From creative residencies designed to promote exploration and the development of new music and content, to workshops and mentorship programs that help prepare emerging artists for a rapidly evolving commercial landscape, NMC artist programs provide a foundation for Canadian artists.

Check nmc.ca/artists for more information and applications.

AE WEST

Artist Entrepreneur West (AE West), is a five-week creative entrepreneurship program to help emerging professional artists of all musical genres develop sustainable businesses and careers via hands-on mentoring, networking, and collaboration. Join us as we celebrate the accomplishments of this year's participants with a showcase in the historic King Eddy.

This year's conference runs from November 5 to December 7 and is open to artists of all genres. AE West closes with a public showcase featuring participating artists.

IN RESIDENCE

Through our Artist in Residence program, musicians from around the world explore and use our collection in the creation of new works. NMC's vision is to become a national catalyst for discovery, innovation, and renewal through music.

The Arlene Flock McKen Career Development Scholarship celebrates Arlene Flock McKen's legacy of mentoring women to be successful entrepreneurs in their chosen field. Each year, one female or female-identifying artist will be awarded a $2,000 scholarship to participate in the AE West program at NMC.

The National Music Centre's Artist in Residence program is generously supported by Bell Media. Applications for spring 2019 open soon. For more information, visit nmc.ca/artists.

TONTO WEEK

This fall, NMC will finally commission a crown jewel of its diverse music technology collection – one of the world’s largest and most legendary modular synthesizers, TONTO. To commemorate this milestone, NMC will host a week of music programming, timed to coincide with Alberta Electronic Music Conference, which will be presented at Studio Bell. Malcolm Cecil, one of the co-creators of TONTO, will be in attendance to deliver demonstrations, and lectures on the history of the instrument. A Tribe Called Red will be the first musicians to create new music with TONTO.

MONTHLY GIVING PROGRAM

JOIN THE BAND, / SET THE TEMPO

The National Music Centre (NMC) is a registered not-for-profit charity. It's only with your support that we can offer diverse programs for musicians and fans alike.

Help us celebrate Canada's rich music heritage and write the next verse of music in Calgary and Canada.

Join our monthly giving program, Tempo, and help us keep a steady beat at NMC. Make your donation or monthly commitment today by visiting our webpage at: nmc.ca/support.
